Thanks Rob, I noticed those errors as well. Again, I thought I had corrected all of those TECO's to TEC's, but it must have been in the TEPD and the permit. When Julie Ward was there a few years ago, she had started having us change from TECO to TEC for correspondence related to the electric division. Since she left, we seem to have reverted back to the historical usage of TECO for some reason. I have informed my co-workers that documents for your division should reference TEC in the future. We'll do our best to catch that, but you guys have been referred to as TECO for a long time and old habits are hard to break with engineers.

I think your email address was simply a typo. I have corrected that with Lynn this morning and you should have received an email from her containing the permitting package that was distributed yesterday for project 058-AC.

We'll definitely keep a closer watch on these items in the future. Have a good weekend!

Jon:

The written notice has additional errors. My email address should be RAVelasco@tecoenergy.com. Also, the document states TECO, but not TEC as previously requested. Please revise all document to reflect these changes at the next available opportunity.
