Ok look at the last screenshot I sent for Bearss Plaza Cleaners and Laundry – McNatt’s Cleaners. In the comments field an inspector had noted the switch to petroleum based solvent back in 2006. Your Air Division facility Id is 0571079, the other Id may be your waste permit I’m not sure. I’ll update the address and put another note that there is still no Perchloroethylene at the facility. Thank you

OK so the EPA ID number is 29-9501069.....it may be listed as Florida Ave. Cleaners & Laundry at 14946 N. Florida Ave. (This was our business office address) but the actual plant location is 6210 N. Florida Ave. "Tampa 33604 Maybe it is not listed with you because we have been a petroleum plant for years. We just wanted to make sure the records are correct."

Gail,

We have no record of this facility that I am aware of. Do you have an Air General Permit, or have you ever had one at this facility? If so what is the facility ID number? The DC cleanup program is a DEP-Waste Division program but I am with the DEP-Air Quality Division.

Now if you have never had Perchloroethylene at this facility then you would not have an Air General Permit in our records. But you would still need to be registered with the Waste Division since they may monitor petroleum solvents and Ecosolve. Is this the current situation?

Are you talking about this facility? We don't have any Dry Cleaners listed at at 6210 N. Florida Ave. in Tampa. This facility is listed as inactive

Michael, Mr. McNatt would like for you to check and make sure that the 6210 N. Florida Ave. plant is also noted as NO PERC. We use 2 solvents at Florida Ave. Eco Solv and also Petroleum Solvent. If you need further information please let me know.
