Dick,

You indicated earlier that this site would not require a new GP. I also recall that you asked for information from them regarding their letters of incorporation (or some such thing). Will you be changing the name (as needed) in ARMS once you receive the information you requested?

Thanks,
Tom

Dick, thank you for your time and direction concerning the response to Thomas' email correspondence earlier today.

Although the name is mis-stated in the correspondence, the fact remains that we did have a change in our division name.

As I had stated in our conversation, all company information remains the same, the ownership is the same. Our company has two precast manufacturing sites and this change was merely made to streamline internal business processes. As you have advised, this change does not require a new General Permit application at this time, we are providing the merger letters as per your request.

I have included scanned copies of the letters that went out to our customers and vendors, for your immediate reference. I will also forward hard copies to the address you have provided, for your file and record keeping purposes.

Should you require any further information, please reach me at your convenience. Best regards.

Mr. Frument,

As discussed by phone today, it appears that General Precast may be operating without a valid GP. If the facility has not yet submitted a GP eligibility application, please submit the GP application to the Florida Dept. of Environmental Protection (FDEP), in care of Dickson Dibble, as soon as possible. Any ownership change at a facility requires a new GP for the new owners. If this was not a corporate change, please contact Mr. Dibble and seek his determination regarding whether or not your situation requires a new General Permit or not. Please copy me with any correspondence regarding this matter.

Good morning Tom,

I have not yet received a registration form for an ownership change of this facility (AIRS ID# 0990146). As you are aware all registrations forms are submitted to the FDAP Finance & Accounting address where they process the fee and date stamp the form to begin the mandatory thirty (30) day processing & review. In the normal course of events, I will receive them within three a (3) to four (4) day period. If they indicated that they recently filed a form it may still be on its way to me, but I don't currently have it in my possession.

I will keep my eyes open for it and let you know when I receive it.

Thank you and have a great day!

We received a VE report which indicates it is for General Precast Corp
(formerly known as Tri-County Concrete Products, Inc.).

Our database does not reflect a change in ownership for this facility (0990146).

Do you know if they have applied for a new GP under what appears to be new ownership?

Thanks,

Tom Tittle

Part III Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

- The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me), and
- I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding, and
- I am a U.S. person (including a U.S. resident alien).

Certification Instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the Certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. (See the instructions on page 2.)

Sign Here Signature of U.S. person ▶ Date ▶

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must get your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to give your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

- Certify the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
- Certify you are not subject to backup withholding, or
- Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee.

If you are a foreign person, use the appropriate Form W-8. See Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations.

Note: If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

What is backup withholding? Persons making certain payments to you must withhold and pay to the IRS 31% of such payments under certain conditions. This is called "backup withholding." Payments that may be subject to backup withholding include interest, dividends, broker and barter exchange transactions, rents, royalties, nonemployee pay, and certain payments from fishing boat operators. Real estate transactions are not subject to backup withholding.

If you give the requester your correct TIN, make the proper certifications, and report all your taxable interest and dividends on your tax return, payments you receive will not be subject to backup withholding. Payments you receive will be subject to backup withholding if:

- You do not furnish your TIN to the requester, or
- You do not certify your TIN when required (see the Part III instructions on page 2 for details), or
- The IRS tells the requester that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or
- The IRS tells you that you are subject to backup withholding because you did not report all your interest and dividends on your tax return (for reportable interest and dividends only), or

- You do not certify to the requester that you are not subject to backup withholding under 4 above (for reportable interest and dividend accounts opened after 1983 only).

Certain payees and payments are exempt from backup withholding. See the Part II instructions and the separate instructions for the Requester of Form W-9.

Penalties

Failure to furnish TIN. If you fail to furnish your correct TIN to a requester, you are subject to a penalty of $50 for each such failure unless your failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

Civil penalty for false information with respect to withholding. If you make a false statement with no reasonable basis that results in no backup withholding, you are subject to a $500 penalty.

Criminal penalty for falsifying information. Willfully falsifying certifications or affirmations may subject you to criminal penalties including fines and/or imprisonment.

Misuse of TINs. If the requester discloses or uses TINs in violation of Federal law, the requester may be subject to civil and criminal penalties.
