Statement Marine, LLC submitted a notification form on 6/24/09 and the general permit became effective on 7/25/09.

We performed an inspection on the new facility on 8/6/09. It turns out:

- ✓ This is the same location as Statement Power Boats, LLC, 1030525
- ✓ It is operated by the same people.
- ✓ They were submitting the notification with a new company name and address, but they did mark the notification form appropriately.

It seems that the notification form should have been marked as a renotification for 1030525 and we should not have created a new facility.

How do you want to proceed on this? I will be out of the office for the next two weeks so please copy Matt McCann on your response.
