Subject: RE: ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGE - formerly ARMS ID# 0951302 (stationary) changed to ID# 7771302 (relocatable)

Dear Mr. Meeks,

Your request to have your portable Nonmetallic Mineral Processing Plant, which was previously entitled as a stationary unit, re-classified as a relocatable unit has been processed and completed. The new facility identification number is ARMS ID# 7771302. The registration term of entitlement for #7771302-003-AG will remain the same as your most recent registration of 08/11/2011 – 08/11/2016

After our discussion yesterday, I did some research and discovered that this unit was originally entitled to operate as a stationary unit by our DEP Central District Office in September 2006. Your recent registration form renewal (July 11, 2011) did indicate that the unit was a relocatable, but yet we continued the re-registration as a stationary unit. I apologize for not catching the error at the time, but since it had been previously registered as a stationary unit I assumed that it was to remain as the same registered type.

You might want to maintain a copy of this e-mail with the previous copies of the registration form and e-mail acknowledgement letter which I forwarded to you to you yesterday, so that if an inspector should make a visit to your facility, you can provide he or she with a copy.

Thank you for your time and patience and if you have any questions, comments or concerns in the future please e-mail or call.

Have a great day!

Sincerely yours,

Dickson E. Dibble

Subject: air permit

Mr. Dibble, this is Eric Meeks with C.E.M. Enterprises Inc. d.b.a. Double D Crushers. I would like to see if there is any way to get my air permit changed to a relocatable from stationary. The plant we have is portable and I am not sure why it is permitted as stationary, I may have messed up when doing the paper work. I have a large job that we have , this is the only reason I have found out that my permit is not relocatable. If there is any way you may assist me in getting it changed so I do not lose this job I would greatly appreciate it. My facility # is 0951302-003 Thank you for your help. Please let me know if there is anything else you need.
