Dear Ms Phillips:

I am writing this letter of correction in response to a conversation I had today with Alan Zahm of FDEP in Orlando. I want to correct my letter of May 1, 2002. I misunderstood the information. We are an emitter of HAPs. We have the potential of being a major emitter of VOCs.

Item #4 should read:

We do emit HAPS in the form of VOCs.

The coil coating line is 97% efficient, the hylene line is 99.5% efficient, and the hylene drying line is 98.86% efficient based on stack tests conducted October 11, 2001.

Again, I apologize for the mistake in information I provided. Please contact me if any more information is needed.

Sincerely,

Gail N. Booker, EHS Coordinator
