Subject: Title V Permit Renewal

Hi Mr. Sampson,

In response to your concern about submitting your application late, I believe you are OK. Because your renewal due date fell on the weekend, it should default to the next business day. I am still looking to find the rule or statute that makes this clear and I will forward that to you as soon as I find it. Unless the rule states something differently from what I am remembering, you may consider your application to have been submitted timely. Please feel free to call me if you have any further questions.
